

DARRYL PURPOSE - TECH RIDER

Concert environment is required, along with reasonably good stage lighting, and a sound person who's only job is working the sound during the show.

Darryl plays a Taylor acoustic guitar through an LR Baggs VENUE DI. The Venue DI does not do phantom power. It uses an adapter (which Darryl travels with) or a 9 volt battery. 1 XLR connection required. Darryl travels without cords, so he will also need a ¼ inch guitar cord.

Darryl travels with an AKG c-214 vocal mic. Darryl is comfortable with this mic because it makes his voice sound real good. Sound people often have complaints about this mic in a live setting, but Darryl says I want to use this mic, please.

Darryl usually stands, and likes a stool to put water and capos on. He also requests a guitar stand.

Sometimes Darryl travels with a fiddler, and sometimes that fiddler sings. Depending on who it is, she might need a DI or a mic or both.

We say this with a smile -- Regarding food and drink, Darryl is really picky about this stuff, and if all you have to offer is water, that is perfectly fine. Darryl is serious about low carb, non-processed foods. He likes full fat dairy and humanely raised animals, local if possible. Like we said, if water is all you've got, that's perfect!
